Your teacher, Julia Priest

Julia has been on Temple Emanuel's staff for four years as both Tot Shabbat Leader and the preschool's Music and Movement Specialist. A singer and teacher since 1987, Julia has earned several internationally-recognized certifications in early childhood music and movement pedagogy: Dalcroze Eurhythmics Level I in 2006; Orff Schulwerk Level I in 2008; in April, 2007, the Center for Music and Young Children in Princeton, NJ awarded Julia

Music Together Teacher Certification Level II status, the highest certification level, for outstanding achievement in teaching, musicianship, program philosophy, and parent education. Julia holds an M.Mus. degree in Voice Performance from Boston University and an M.S. in Speech Language Pathology from MGH Institute of Health Professions.

Julia is the director of Music and Movement of Newton, which offers developmentally appropriate programs for preschools, daycares, and temples, birthday parties, community-building events, and Music Together® parent-child classes. Secular classes, seven days a week in two Newton locations, use evidence-based curricula, Music Together® & Canta y Baila Conmigo.
